About SHARE Project
SHARE is a partnership of 12 African Universities in Eastern, Central, Southern and Western Africa lead by Makerere University in Uganda. The members of the partnership are Stellenbosch University (South Africa), Haramaya University (Ethiopia), Makerere University (Uganda), Eduardo Mondlane University (Mozambique), University of Zambia (Zambia), Gezira University (Sudan), Jomo Kenyatta University of Science and Technology (Kenya), Lilongwe University of Agriculture and Natural Resources (Malawi), University of Burundi (Burundi), Abomey Calavi University (Benin), and University of Cape Coast (Ghana), University of Port Harcourt (Nigeria). The Regional Universities Forum for Capacity Building in Agriculture (RUFORUM) is an associate partner. The Project is funded by the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency for the European Commission. The project supports staff and students exchange in various disciplines of agriculture within and outside the 12 member countries of the partnership.

SHARE’s Main Objectives:
The overall objective is to share capacity and infrastructure among African universities for quality graduate training. Specifically, the project aims at;
1. Strengthening capacities of consortium members through student and staff exchange;
2. Creating opportunities for African young scientists to acquire Masters and PhD training in agricultural related disciplines;
3. Providing a platform for the partner universities to learn together for the purpose of improving their graduate training and mentorship
